(See 1220.03 Westlake Codified Ordinances)

For more specific information please refer to the Westlake Planning Commission Development Plan Application Cover Sheet regarding fees and items to be submitted. A copy is available from the Clerk of Commissions and is also available on the city website at:

<http://www.cityofwestlake.org/532/Planning-Department> .

2. APPLICATION FILING FOR PRE-APPLICATION CONFERENCE

The pre-application conference, planning commission meeting schedule and deadlines are available from the Clerk of Commissions and are also available on the city website at:

<http://www.cityofwestlake.org/532/Planning-Department>. Agent and/or owner must contact the Westlake Planning Department at 440.617.4305 prior to submitting an application for the pre-application conference to discuss the initial proposal. Agent and/or owner must be present at the pre-application conference.

Copies of the development plan are distributed to various city departments for review and comment at the pre-application conference meeting. Comments typically deal with but are not limited to: zoning code requirements, parking, traffic, landscaping, buffering, utilities, storm water drainage, and/or lighting. The staff can ask questions or explain any revisions needed to the development plans. The intent of the pre-application conference with city planners and staff is to review the proposal for compliance to the zoning codes and to ensure a complete application packet is made to the planning commission.

3. APPLICATION FILING FOR PLANNING COMMISSION REVIEW

Plans for planning commission are to be submitted to the Westlake Planning Department by the planning commission deadline date, which is available from the Clerk of Commissions or on the city website at:

<http://www.cityofwestlake.org/532/Planning-Department>.

Copies of the development plan are distributed to various city departments for review and comment. The department reviews are returned to the planning department and the applicant's representative is faxed or emailed a copy of any comments, questions or concerns. City staff will review the plans, taking into account the spirit and intent of the zoning code, the location of the proposal, the effect on the surrounding properties, and the relationship of the proposal to the guide plan.

The planning commission will review the plans, taking into account the spirit and intent of the zoning code, the location of the proposal, the effect on the surrounding properties, and the relationship of the proposal to the guide plan. The commission, in reviewing the proposed development plans for conformity to the zoning code, may make adjustments (by granting a modification) to yards, areas, or other dimensioned requirements. If the applicant requests modifications to one standard, the planning commission may recommend and request other modifications to offset the applicant's request. If modifications made by the planning commission or the applicant are subsequently recommended for approval by the planning commission, the modifications are made a part of the development plans. These modifications are either indicated on the revised plans submitted by the applicant, or they shall be affixed to the development plans approved and signed by the applicant and chairman of the commission. The applicant and/or his assigns shall be bound by such modifications and conditions affixed to the approved development plan.

Applicant and/or owner must be present at the planning commission meeting and must be prepared to present their own plans to the commission.

4. APPROVAL OF DEVELOPMENT PLANS

Within ninety days from the date of the commission meeting at which all required plans and data were first considered by the planning commission, the commission shall either approve the submitted plan, approve a modified development plan or disapprove the development plan. An alternate timetable will be considered if the applicant consents to an extension. In the event the applicant chooses to withdraw the application, the time limitations of this section shall only apply if such application is later presented to the planning commission as required. If the planning commission disapproves the development plans, the planning commission shall indicate the reason for disapproval in the minutes.

Upon approval by the planning commission, the development plan shall be submitted to council for confirmation. A report is filed with the clerk of council for council's consideration at their next council meeting. Council generally meets the first and third Thursday of each month other than August, when council recesses. Council may make modifications under the same procedure and requirements followed by the planning commission under Sections 1220.05 and 1220.06.

Action by council shall be deemed to be final. If the plans are approved by council, the applicant may then apply for a building permit.

The applicant then submits construction plans to the building and engineering departments for review, inspection and issuance of permits. The construction plan will be examined for conformity to the approved development plan. Except for minor revision, as determined by the director of planning, any revisions by the developer will need to be resubmitted through the same procedure required for the original development plan (planning commission and council approval). Minor revisions which do not require further modification and conform to the zoning requirements may be accepted and approved by the director of planning.

Failure to obtain a building permit and begin the construction of the improvements approved in the development plan within one year after council's approval shall make null and void the development plan as approved unless an extension of time is granted by planning commission and approved by council. The filing of a written request with the planning commission for an extension of approval shall toll the running of the one-year period and any approval or disapproval of an extension shall relate back to the date of the letter requesting the extension.
